Therefore, it becomes necessary that we take means to protect ourselves, and the only method in sight is a division of West Algoma at Niven's line, making the judicial district of Rainy River a local constituency. If the contemplated re-distribution goes through such a division will be impossible for some years to come, not because we have not the necessary population, but because, the Port Arthur end will be short, and will have to be tacked on to Rainy River until the population of the east end is big enough to make it a

The Stories About the Premier Prenounce ing Against the Arbitration Acts Untrue New Lubur Levislation.

The following letter from Wellington, New Zealand, dated Oct. 20th touching the question of labor unions and compulsory arbitration, has just been received by a Canadian public man.

Many letters have been received from Canada asking if it is true that New Zealand is in a condition of industrial turmoil, and that compulsory arbitration is a failure. It is added that the report is current in Canada that the Premier of this colony has pronounced against the act and against further legislation of the advanced order.

The Premier, so far from having pronounced against the Ambitration Act, has this session, introduced han amending bill making the act fartons in an industrial district shall come under the award, whether industrial unions or not while an industrial union has certain privileges, such as initiating disnutes and electing boards and courts. only the disabilities. tionservatives in that lown are always Port Arthurites first and party men afterwards they have invariably inserted the knife when it came to election time; and have been awarded afterwards by themender spatronage.

Therefore, it becomes necessary that we take means to protect ourselves. and the only method in sight is a division of West Algoma at Niven's line. making the judicial district of Rainv River a local constituency. If the contemplated re-distribution goes through such a division will be impossible for some years to come, not because we have not the necessary population, but because, the Port Arthur end will be short, and will have to be tacked on to Rainy River until the population of separate constituency.

We are tired of being the dog whose tails wags him. Port Arthur has always been our political old man of the sea, and any attempt on the part of suffered greivance must meet with onposition from the electors of the Rainy River district. Mr. Conmee has a chance now to either make or break himself as far as Rainy River is concerued. . He can push the proposed bill through the legislature, and his politied capital will flutter around zero. or he can throw it in the waste paper basket and draft one making the Rat Portage end w constituency, and the people, Liberal and Conservative will praise his name and pray that his days may be long in the land.

This is frank, but it is a time to be frank -emphatically so, Ascause the people of the Rainy River district are very much in earnest in this matter. The Chronicle itself acknowledges that Port Arthur is the whole thing and does all the delegation work of the district. Here is what the Chronicle

"The men of Port Arthur have year after year gone to Toronto to back the claims made by the District's representative for roads, railroads; etc. and too often have they been compelled to undertake this work immided by other sections"

Quite true. And we want to put an end to that kind of thing. Rat Port age and Rainy Ricer are big enough to take care of themselves, and don't want to get anything second band from Purt Arthur, beither are we willing to permit the men of Port Arthm to yo to all the trouble and expense of vetting at failroads and bridges, etc. The matterns upwinpito Connec, and his next plove will be watched with keen injerest by the people of Rathy River district.

the ambush where Death, arrow on string, waits to plant his deadly shaft in her breast? Yet so it is. Time and again Love proves to be Death's decoy. And often when the grim archer fails to inflice mortal hurt, he leaves the suffering woman to creep through life like a broken-winged bird.

Why does love lead to suffering? Many a woman has asked that question piteously and passionately. She has forher husband in the belief that so she was achieving woman's highest happiness. But instead of happiness she has found misery, struggled with it until struggle seemed useless, and at last has come to accept her misery as the "cross" laid upon women who love and marry.

There is no real reason why almost every wife and mother should not enjoy sound health. The causes of her misery lie in diseases which affect the delicate. womanly organism. Disagreeable drains are carrying away the vital force. Inflammation has lighted its fire for slow torment. Ulceration is eating into the however, and is especially foul of beef, of which he cats great quanti-making life a daily marryrdom. Is it any wohder that the nerves are racked, that appetite fails, and night, which should bring rest, brings only restless and troubled dreams? Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures

I mean the kind of nonsensical superstition that decides his action occasionally. My own is about as silly as that of any man's, but as it has won me lets of money I am going to cling to it. It originated about eight years ago when I found a fifty cent piece on the side. walk. It was the first money that I had ever found in that way, and I find a feeling that luck was with me on that day. I plunged on everything that I had been hesitating about, and when I settled up I found toyself way about After that I fell into the habit of keeping on the lookout for coins in the street. You would be surprised to see the collection that I have at home, for I bays never spent ony of this locky money. "The temptations to enter political life were so alluring that I came very near yielding to them at one time." saw colored men who were members of the state legislatures and county officers who could not read or write and whose morals were as weak as their education. Not long ago, when passing through the streets of a certain city in the south. I heard some brickmasons calling out from the top of a two story brick building for the 'governor' to 'hurry up and bring up some more bricks. Several times I heard the command: 'Hurry up, governor!' 'Hurry un, governor!' My curiosity was aroused to such an extent that I made inquiry as to who the 'governor' was and soon found that he was a colored man who at one time had held the position of lieuseupht governor of his state.

"I asked an old colored man to tell me something of his history. He said that he had been born to Virginia and sold into Alabama in 1843. I asked him how many were sold at the same time. He replied. There were five of us -myself and brother and three mules."

King Great and the Young Reporter. On one occasion Oscar II, went to Gothenburg to attend a dedication or the opening of something or other where he was expected to make a speech. An enterprising reporter tutercepted him at a railway station upon arrival to ask for a copy of his manuscript in advance in order that it might be published the same afternoon, for there would be no time for a stenographer to write out his notes after delivery. The king greeted him pleasantly and explained that he had no manuscript; that he intended to speak without actes. The reporter was very much disappointed. He told the king frankly that he was a new man and that his future standing with his employer might be seriously affected if he falled to get the speech. King Oschr responded sympathetically, motioned to the peporter to get into his carriage. and while they were driving to the botel gave a brief synopsis of what he expected to say .- Chicago Record Herald
